A Word of Welcome for the "Guide to the Vulkaneifel"

Dear fellow citizens,

The Vulkaneifel District has become a new home for many people. Some of them, however, were forced to leave their former homes for a variety of reasons: war, persecution, poverty or as victims of natural disasters. But also the wish to live a better life has led people to seek refuge in our district.

Nevertheless, a new home also means accepting many other new things - things such as the language, the school system, the provision of medical care, and very much more. This "Guide Vulkaneifel" has been produced so as to give these people some initial guidance and to make it easier for them to integrate into our society. Not only new inhabitants but also voluntary workers will find answers to questions concerning a vast range of aspects of our lives in this guide. I would like to express my thanks to all those who have helped in the production of this guide and who have thus contributed to a faster process of integration in our Vulkaneifel society.

It is an enrichment for all of us that people whose origins lie in many different countries live here together side-by-side. So I would like to extend a warm welcome to all those people for whom the Vulkaneifel District has become a new home.

Yours,
Heinz-Peter Thiel,
Head of the County Administration

Welcome to the Vulkaneifel!

Dear friends from all over the world,

Welcome to the volcanic Eifel district. Your presence enriches our society. You make our region more colourful and more lively.

Many people, in clubs or in government offices and agencies, are willing to give you the effective help you need. Our guide will assist you in finding the names and addresses you can turn to when you are setting up your new life in our midst.

I wish you all that, step by step, the Vulkaneifel will become your second home.

Yours,
Céline Reineke,
(Integration Commissioner of the Vulkaneifel district)
